Deans' Committee Outlaws Liquor Sales By Students

THE CHRISTMAS STORY

And the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, to a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph; and the virgin's name was Mary.

And the angel appeared unto Mary, saying, Behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS. He shall be great and shall be called the Son of the Highest: and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David: And he shall reign over the house of Jacob forever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end. He who is born of thee shall be called the Son of God.

Then did the angel of the Lord appear unto Joseph in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife; for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost. And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins.

Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet Isaiah, saying, Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel; which, being interpreted, is, God with us.

And it came to pass in those days that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the inhabited earth should be taxed. And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and lineage of David. Also went Mary, his espoused wife, being great with child.

And while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered. And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The Everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace.

Humanities Dinner Highlighted By Leonard's Speech and Group Singing

"Love—this is the Christmas spirit. The star and the cross—these are the Christmas symbols. Let us hold them above the head of daily living throughout the year," said Dr. J. Paul Leonard, president of State, at the annual Humanities Christmas dinner yesterday.

Using his recent European trip as background, Dr. Leonard told of the ruins of Rome which were once the pride of Tiberius Caesar, in whose empire the Christ Child was born and crucified, leaving at his death "a symbol for all men which no dictator can erase—the cross of Christianity. This symbol is the outer spirit, but love is the inner spirit, the real Christmas spirit.

"In this sense, I wish you all a very Merry Christmas."

Group singing followed Dr. Leonard's address. The program included the Brass Quartet, the Faculty Quartet, and songs sung by the visiting German students. These last pieces were sung in the German tongue and dialects.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Fellow Staters:

On behalf of the board of directors of the Associated students, I would like to extend to you the best wishes for a joyous Christmas and prosperous New Year.

By continuing the fine spirit which has been displayed during the past year, I am confident that we can make 1952 an even greater year for San Francisco State college. Yours for a better State,

Don Johnson,
President, ASSFSC.

CAA Wants More Voting Booths

Bd. of Directors to Vote On Club Suggestion

A motion providing for more than one voting booth in future elections, was approved and seconded in a recent Club Advisory association meeting. The recommendation now goes to the Board of Directors for final approval.

Charles Smith, Mental Hygiene club representative, introduced the motion. During a lengthy discussion, Smith pointed out that "if we had more voting booths in elections, more students would be able to vote. Booths should be open for a longer period of time so night students and working students would all have a chance to vote."

Sharon McDonnell, student body vice president, commented that it would be difficult to obtain classrooms which are used for voting facilities for a long period of time and equally difficult to obtain people to supervise elections.

The lack of spirit in the universal card election was cited as an example of the laxity of voting on campus. Although it was record-breaking election for a one day period, only 1172 students voted, approximately 30 per cent of elegible voters.

Three reasons were listed for the poor election turnout. These were: 1) the railroading attitude under which student body cards were sold during registration, 2) the draft, and 3) the false impression of the slogan, "Vote for Unification."

The CAA's next meeting is scheduled for January 15.

Students Must File Now For February Credentials

All students who are planning to obtain their teaching credentials this February are requested to set up a file with the Placement office and to turn in their recommendations as soon as possible.

Coast Guard Offers Commission to College Graduates Who Can Qualify

The Dean of Men's office has released further information pertaining to the student and officer training programs of the armed forces.

An opportunity is offered, by the United States Coast Guard, to qualify for a commission in the Coast Guard reserve and assignment to immediate active duty. Age requirements are 21-26, and 21-30 for Coast Guard and Navy veterans.

Applicants must possess a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college. Veterans of the Coast Guard, Coast Guard Reserve, Navy or Naval reserve, may substitute one or two years of active service toward the college requirement but must have a minimum of two years of college.

If qualified and selected for the "OCS" program, applicants will be enlisted in the Coast Guard reserve for a three-year period, as Seaman recruit (officer candidate), ordered to immediate, active duty and sent to the Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn., for a 16-week course of indoctrination.

Upon successful completion of the indoctrination course they will be graduated as Ensign, USCGR. Those who do not successfully complete the course will be given an enlisted rating to be decided upon at that time.

In addition, applicants are further obligated to serve on active duty in the Coast Guard reserve for a period of time which will be determined by the then current Selective Service directives.

For further information, and the necessary application blanks, contact the district Reserve director, 12th Coast Guard district, 630 Sansome St., San Francisco, Calif. Telephone: YU. 6-3111.

Drama Dept. Cancels 'Our Town' Production

Dr. J. Fenton McKenna of the drama department announces that the play "Our Town," which was originally scheduled for November 29, 30, and December 6, 7, 8, has not, and will not be given this year.

Because of the success and long run of Kampus Kapers, drama production has been over-burdened and too busy to contemplate another venture.

Proposed Kappa Omega Dance Brings College Policy Definition

Prompted by the plans for Kappa Omega's off-campus dance, scheduled for January 5, 1952, which included a provision for members of the group setting up a bar for their own profit, the Deans' committee voted Wednesday that no student organization affiliated with the college will be permitted to sell liquor at any function sponsored by the group.

Official college notice of the procedure reads as follows:

"The Deans' committee moved, seconded and passed a motion that the following policy be adopted by the college:

"No student organization affiliated with the college will be permitted in the name of the organization or through arrangement with any individual hired by or working voluntarily for the organization to sell or cause to be sold liquor at any function sponsored by the group. Violation of this regulation will result in the suspension of the organization or withdrawal of recognition of the organization and the forfeiture of all the rights and privileges as a recognized student group."

According to Dean John L. Bergstresser, dean of student personnel, such action was taken in the special session, to which President Leonard had been invited, only after it was decided that there were no grounds on which it would be possible to justify permitting a student group to set up a bar as a source of profit.

This measure, he explained, is for the protection of the group, the faculty sponsor, and the college. He went on to point out that allowing a group to maintain its own bar involves breaking the law: The State Board of Equalization requires that all sellers of liquor have a license; since students selling liquor would be acting in direct violation of the law, everyone at the dance would be subject to arrest.

Maintaining a student group bar could also possibly involve selling liquor to minors, and, in the event of an accident, such action would ultimately result, if not in physical injuries, in injuries to both individual and school reputations.

In a meeting following the Deans' committee meeting, representatives of Kappa Omega and the Associated students met with Dean of Women Dorothy E. Wells and Dean Bergstresser, discussed the reasons behind the Deans' committee action, and agreed to act in compliance with the ruling.

'Charity Begins at Home' Drive Terminates Today

Sigma Delta Gamma, working in conjunction with Dean Wells on a "Charity Begins at Home" drive, has placed containers in the cafeteria, the lounge, and the library in order that students may donate nickels and dimes to strengthen the Student Welfare fund.

This fund, originally known as the "Rainy Day fund" of former dean of women, Mary Ward, provides students with loans of any kind.

The drive terminates today.

Student Performers Top Weekly Music Recital Lab

An informal music recital lab, featuring outstanding music students from San Francisco State college, is being held in AB9, (music room) each Friday, 11:15 to noon.

Library Vacation Hours

During the Christmas holidays, both the main library and the education library will be open from 8 to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. Both branches will be closed on Christmas Day.

Pre-term Frosh Camp Open to All State Freshmen

The Freshman camp committee has announced its decision to open the camp to students already enrolled in the freshman class, instead of restricting registration to incoming freshman students. Those frosh students who are interested in the pre-term camp, which will be held on February 3, 4, and 5, 1952, are advised to register in Hut 4A immediately as enrollment is limited. Fees for the camp, $20, which cover all expenses, must be paid by January 7.

Activities at the three day informal camp will include swimming, dances, parties, camp fires, rallies, athletic games, and bull sessions which will cover school customs, traditions, registration, student government, and organizations.

'Hansel and Gretal' Set For Dec. 30, Opera House

Humperdinck's Fairy Opera "Hansel and Gretel" is scheduled for a matinee performance by the Pacific Opera company on Sunday, December 30, at the War Memorial Opera house.

Singing major roles will be Marnie Nixon as Gretel, Evelyn Tanner as Hansel, and Eloise Farell as the witch. Francis Barnes and Emogene Cornwell will portray the parents of the two children, and Viola Sanderson and Eileen Scott will sing the roles of the Sandman and the Dewman. The San Fancisco Ballet will be featured in the performance. The choreography is by Lew Christensen. Arturo Casiglia will direct the performance.

A spring festival of popular operas by the Pacific Opera company has been set for presentation from March 5 through March 21, 1952. Operas scheduled include "La Boheme," "Lucia di Lammermoor," "Madam Butterfly," "La Traviata," "Il Trovatore," "Carmen," "Cavalleria Rusticana," and "I Pagliacci."

Tickets for "Hansel and Gretel" are now on sale in the Opera-Symphony Box Office at Sherman, Clay and company.

Newly Formed Business Club Gets Official Title

The newly formed Business club has received the name of San Francisco State Business club. It meets once a month and is open to those who are interested in business. Its activities include guest speakers and social events, and the group's membership is about 55 students at present.

Transcripts of Spring Transferees to Cal Must Be Filed This Term

Persons planning to enroll in the University of California for the spring semester must file preliminary transcripts of record with the director of admissions of that institution during this semester, it was announced by the university earlier this month.

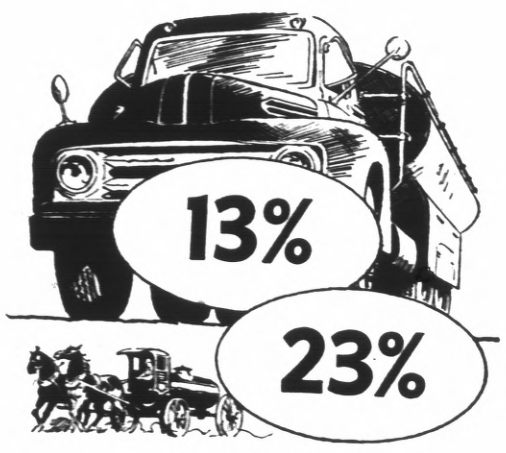
The preliminary transcript should include complete scholastic record to date and course of study in progress. Delay in registration will almost certainly result from failure to comply with this request. Registration for the spring semester of the University of California will open on February 11.

Those students planning to enter any of the university's professional schools or colleges in the fall semester are asked to forward their preliminary transcripts to the Director of Admissions during the spring semester. N.R.O.T.C. candidates or marginal students desiring advice concerning summer work to clear their records for admission are also asked to file their preliminary transcripts during the spring semester. Preliminary transcripts need not be filed for students who are obviously eligible for admission and who do not fall in any of the aforementioned categories.

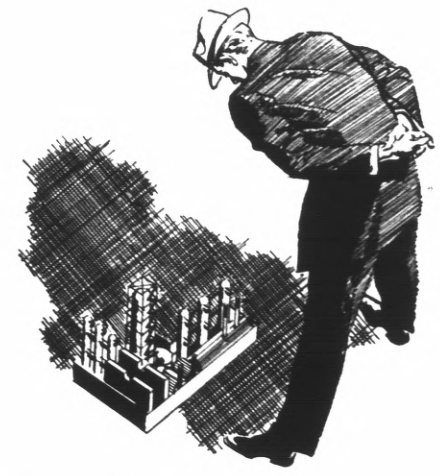
The bigger we grow the smaller we get!

1. Today, Union Oil Company does an annual business of over $250 million. This seems like a whale of a lot of business when you consider that back in 1910 (when we were 20 years old) we did an annual business of $12 million.

2. But back in 1910 there were only 468,500 cars in the U. S. and the average American used only one quart of petroleum products a day. Today there are over 44 million cars in the U. S. and the average American uses 1 9/10 gallons of petroleum products every day.



4. Today we are among the nation's 100 largest corporations and are 20 times as big as we were in 1910. But here's the important point: 42 years ago we did about 23% of the oil business in the 5 western states—our major marketing area. Today, in spite of our growth, we do only 13% of the oil business in the 5 western states!



5. In view of all this, it seems rather strange to hear so much talk about bigness. Of course, individual oil companies are bigger. They have to be bigger to serve the bigger need. But the vast majority aren't as big in proportion to the total business as they were 42 years ago. In fact, they are getting "smaller" all the time.

3. To supply this steadily increasing demand for petroleum products, long-established companies had to expand and many new companies have entered the field. As a result, competition has increased. In 1951 there were 4⅓ times as many oil companies in the U. S. as there were in 1910 — all in competition for your business.

Frosh Bare Their Souls For Opinion Poll; 'Women' Listed Among State's Greatest Assets

Dean Bergstresser's tabulation of freshmen response to the Public Affairs committee questionnaire distributed in English 6 classes indicates that the college's central location, teacher training program, and friendly atmosphere are its greatest assets.

The split campus situation and the ol dcampus might be classified as liabilities since these were rated first and second, respectively, by freshmen in the "what do you like least about State College" category.

STATE PUBLICITY

Friends, high school teachers and counselors, and relatives have served most effectively in acquainting the potential student with State college. Replies to the question, "What was your first contact with State" point up the influence of this group. Surprisingly, the college publicity and athletic programs have brought few students in contact with State.

Responses to the query, "Why did you decide to attend State college?" ranged widely. Most students selected State because of its proximity to home or work, its reputation in the field of teacher training, faculty reputation, and the low cost of attending. Others were impressed by the various college departments and the General Education program. Some wanted to play football or "didn't want to go to Cal." Two responses indicated seduction by the college catalog. The Air Force R.O.T.C. program was peculiarly attractive to several students.

FROSH SPEAK UP

The questions, "What do you like or dislike the most about State College," allowed the students to bare their souls, to speak out in a world which shuns freshmen opinion. Responses were revealing and showed the freshman to be a discerning character. Primarily, he likes the friendly atmosphere and the student-instructor relationship. He is impressed, to a degree, by the curriculum, G. E. program, and the democratic attitudes which pervade student activity. The new campus is sacred to him, but, in its unfinished state, only serves to complicate life.

A few frosh like State's "mature" atmosphere and are relieved that it is not "a rah, rah college." Student activities and social life rate high and are enhanced by the existence of the cafeteria. "The women" are listed as a feature attraction by several students.

DULL PENCILS

Registration and class attendance requirements irked a portion of the freshmen class. Complaints against the inter-campus transportation system are also registered. The lack of parking space, existence of sororities and fraternities, and methods of instruction were appalling to some. Several students found themselves severely handicapped because there were "not enough pencil sharpeners."—By Jerry Bowkett.

ACTIVE INHALER

Dear Editor:

Never one to "bite the hand that feeds," I must nevertheless take issue, for two reasons, with the Philip Morris ad that appears frequently in this newspaper.

Mainly, I am out to cop top honors in the race for the coveted Chesterfield Award of the Month; secondly, I try to answer all questions put to me. This asinine ad (fine alliteration, no?) poses the question, "How many times a day do you inhale?" It is a multiple choice question, giving the testee a choice 50, 100, or 200 times as an answer to the above question. With exclamation marks, yet, they say that "if you're an average smoker, the right answer is over 200."

I'm an average smoker. I like girls, apple pie, corner drug stores, and enjoy pursuing happiness. I couldn't enjoy all these things if I inhaled only 200 times a day! Why, in an unofficial test over an uninterrupted one minute period, I counted upwards of 20 inhalations. The day's total would show better than 25,000.

My tests substantiates the timeworn phrase, "don't believe everything you read in the newspapers." I'm surprised Mr. Morris is so careless with his national advertising.

Sincerely, Herb Notloc.

THE LADY'S RIGHT

To the people who are supposed to be selling car tickets:

How about showing up at the appointed hours once in a while and giving us poor people a break? I admit that passing the buck from Hut 4A to Hut 4B is kind of amusing, but it's dizzy business going back and forth.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Dear Editor:

Here is the kind of reply I got from advertising in your paper. It's getting so a self-respecting girl can't express herself without being misunderstood by off-campus misanthropes.

Indignant Coed,
P. O. Box 2703.

To the Juliet of Box O, Greetings: Whereas we have read concerning the most deplorable conduct of that utter cad, the Romeo of Box X, and being of a sympathy and kndly nature do commiserate most feelingly with you.

And wherefor being of a highly constructive mind, we do most emphatically suggest 1, Leave San Francisco; 2, Come to Los Angeles; 3, Try to attend a men's college where a "B" girl is always appreciated; and 4, Tell us, "How was the prom?"

Russell-ing The News

By Larry A. Russell

CHRISTMAS CHEER WEEK: It all started four years ago. The activities were simple enough; the Humanities club probably had little idea of the snowball they were starting down the hill. The occasion was a dinner. A nice, leisurely dinner, dedicated to the primary purpose of giving student and faculty a chance to get together on friendly grounds, become acquainted, sing Christmas carols.

And then a lot of things began to happen, in a big way. The dinner was a smashing success. All concerned combed the tinsel from their hair, sadly blew out the candles, and pondered about bigger and better things. Subsequently, there is now an entire week of Christmas Cheer activities, made possible by one thing and one thing only . . . student participation.

* * *

For instance, take a look at the galloping reindeer, the cherubic angels; all the decorations in College hall and the cafeteria. Think how long it would take you to make one of the decorative wall pieces. These decorations were created at the expense of much work, much foresight, and much cooperation, and I'm told this is a great way to get in the spirit of things. The art students can take a bow, and Mr. Johansen can be proud.

* * *

Speaking of decorations, I'm reminded of Thursday, when I stopped in at the cafeteria on the new campus. Looks real sharp. Matter of fact, this was a new step this year. John Weimar, prexy of Industrial Arts guild, and the entire Industrial Arts staff directed the decorations on State's "other" campus. Next year, bigger and better participation is in order, both places.

* * *

Now a tree is set up in the Recreation center. Gifts are exchanged. These activities are due to the efforts of a group of students presently taking advanced courses in directing social activities.

* * *

Mrs. Erna Lehan and her kids did the Snack Bar up in great style.

Hey, whatta you know, I almost forgot the thing that started all this. Humanities Christmas dinner. Mrs. Blanche Ellsworth is responsible for the clever brochures that were available.

May I say that wonderful cooperation from everybody has been evident. These people all have done more than their bit, which shows that there IS a spirit on the campus which is admirable and worthy of perpetuating. Here's an example of how things can be done when everybody gives, and the support of the entire student body is evident, either as observers or more preferably, active participants.

* * *

At the last minute, one group of entertainers was unable to show for the dinner. As a result, Mrs. Julia Monroe and her Women's Glee club, 50 strong, made an all-out effort, canceled other plans, sprayed their delicate throats with spirits of ammonia, and, en masse, performed beautifully at the dinner, as if it had been planned that way all the time. Wonderful.

* * *

The Faculty Quartet was there, as hilarious and original as ever, providing a counter balance to the more serious efforts of other entertainers. Great. Dr. J. Fenton McKenna officiated as a competent and clever toastmaster.

* * *

Jerry Whitwell took charge of Tuesday's program as M. C., at which time the brass ensemble, the Women's Glee and the Men's Glee gave their concert.

* * *

The entire staff of KRTG, Radio Television guild, demonstrated a radio broadcast before the student body, another first in Christmas Cheer week activities. I'm told it was a lotta work, a lotta fun, and that Mr. Wm. C. Dempsey, director of this venture, is expected to recover... He and Cy Trobbe, along with Mr. Al Johnson, were last seen composing a letter to the "Haven Of Rest." Understandable, when you consider that all technical equipment had to be moved from the studio, to the band room, to the church, to the studio, to the band room . . . oh, well.

Twenty-six members of the State orchestra, that many cast members, along with directors, assistants, and assistant's assistants, put quite a few hours into this 30 minute endeavor. Understand Dr. George Gibson is making arrangements to have "Christ of the Andes" released at a later date over a radio station in the Bay Area. The show was tape recorded "on the spot." Tune in, and find out how you sounded in the audience.

* * *

Today the "Campus Caroleers," a strolling minstrel brass band, will cover both campuses, and Mr. Hollingsworth is taking his Men's Glee club around. You are urged to fall in and join in the festive spirit . . . sing . . . actively participate.

* * *

. . . So we, four years later, have many happy and pleasant memories. These activities are perhaps one of the highlights of the year, for they demonstrate well, how all of us can work toward the common goal of spreading cheer, and for a moment, forgetting our cares.

* * *

Merry Christmas to everyone. See you all next year.

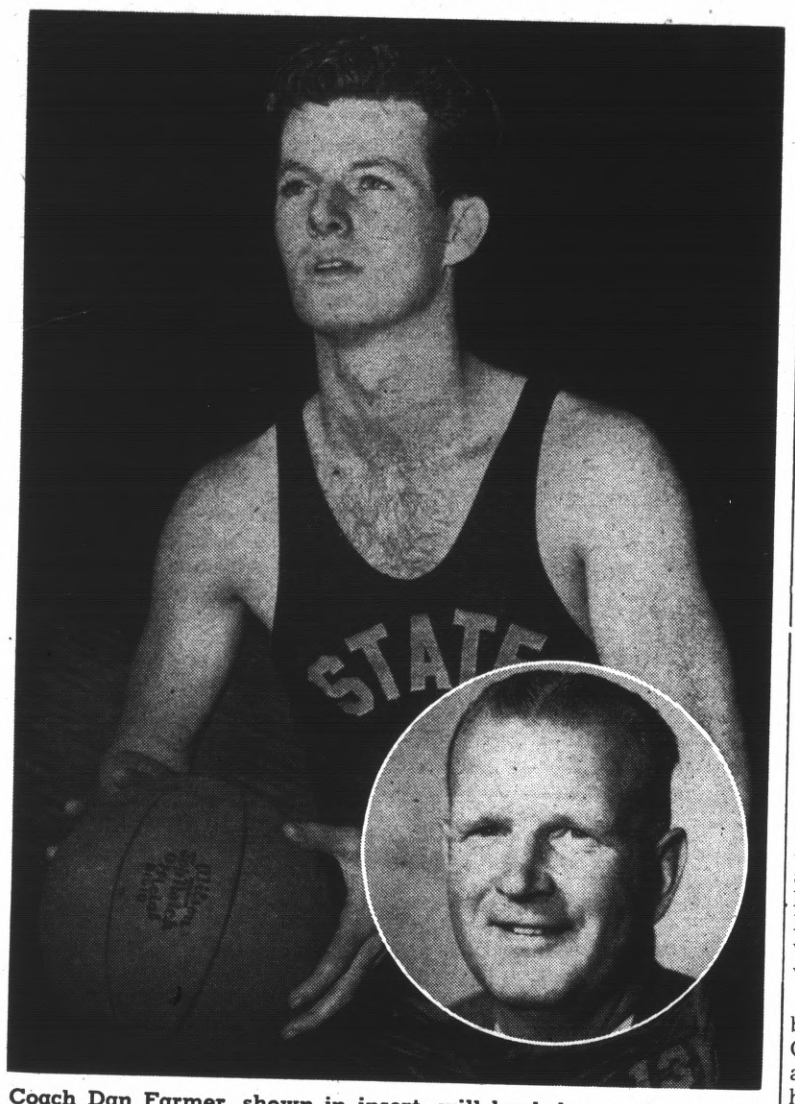
Persian Students Appear on Television Program

A group of Persian students who are attending State were guests on Marjories King's television show last Friday. Students who appeared on the program included Mustafa Shahrivar, Mahin Shahrivar, and Bahram Daryabegi. Dr. Forough Hekmat and her daughter, Nazrin Defarok, Mr. Ray Doyle, and Dr. Hugh Baker were also guests.

Setting for the television show was a Persian tea party at which all the participants told of Persian art and culture, and various phases of life in Persia. National costumes were worn by the ladies, and Nazrin Deforak, a student at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music, sang two folk songs and danced the traditional dance of the Persian court.

Gators Play Classy Company This Weekend

'Player of the Week'



Coach Dan Farmer, shown in insert, will bank hopes of an upset victory tonight over San Jose on State's Northern California Player of the Week, Kevin Duggan, above.

Vacation Basketball:

Gators Host an Explosive Pomona Quintet Tuesday; Touted Bert Cook and Utah State Here Next Night

The Golden Gators will offer the vacationing fan a double fare over the holidays, playing hosts to Pomona and Utah State college next Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Tip-offs, following S. F. State JV prelims, are set for 8:15 p.m.

Although Pomona is rated high in the middle-time college brackets of Southern California, the strongest opposition is expected to come from the Utah State Aggies, one of the toughest teams in the Rocky Mts. Skyline Eight conference.

UTAH STATE WEDNESDAY

The Gators will counter the Aggie stars Bert Cook and Darrell Tucker with the combination of Kev Duggan, John Walsh, Alex Athanasoupoulos, Gly Mayfield, Al Desin, and Vic Gipson that has worked effectively so far this season.

Kev Duggan, Northern California's "Player of the Week" this week, will have to hustle to outplay Utah's Bert Cook, a record breaking senior, who was also picked on the Helms Foundation All-America honorable mention last season.

MEXICAN BARNSTORMERS

The Aggies have had the advantage of a pre-season barnstorming tour through Mexico. The team members are tall, deadly, and experienced, with stiff competition from several all-state freshmen giving the regulars a fight for their starting berths.

The Utah crew, coached by H. Cecil Baker, trounced Sacramento State, one of the strongest California independents, last week on the winner's home courts. According to State coach Dan Farmer, "This game is going to be awfully tough."

POMONA COLLEGE TUESDAY

Pomona College offers a strong, well-balanced squad that is picked by the dopesters to do very well this season. Their record so far this year has been good, and they might easily explode against S. F.

AZS Sparks Swim Meet; Norm Stupfel Sets Record

Alpha Zeta Sigma, well in the running for the all-sports trophy, ran over all opposition in the intramural swimming championships with 48 points to the nearest competitor's 28.

The new records in intramural swimming were set by Norman Stupfel, who thrashed for 26.9 seconds in the 50 yard free style and 14.3 seconds in the 25 yard breast stroke. Outstanding time of 64.0 was made in the 100 yard freestyle by Bob Knapp of Alpha Zeta Sigma. The meet was handled by Al Nelson, manager of intramural swimming and diving.

Balboa AC, with 28 points, and East Bay AC, with 23, led the list of other teams competing. The Golden Gator AC scored 20 points; Sigma Pi Sigma, 16; Delta Gamma Tau, 7; Beta Chi Delta, 5; Kappa Omega, 3.

The award winners:

75 yd. medley relay—Balboa AC (Doug McVey, Al Nelson, Joe Neil) Gator AC, AZS. Time, 45.2.
100 yd. freestyle — Bob Knapp (AZS), Norm Stupfel (SPS), Al Nelson (Bal AC). Time, 60.4.
Diving — Ron Penzel (AZS), Al Souri (East Bay), Gene Hawley (KO).
50 yd. freestyle—Norman Stupfel (SPS), Ron Penzel (AZS), Dewey Guerrera (East Bay). Time (new record), 26.9.
25 yd. backstroke — Dick Boyd (AZS), Bill Kent (Gators), Neil Decker (East Bay). Time, 15.3.
25 yd. breast—Norman Stupfel (SPS), Bob Knapp (ASZ), Allen Dray (BCD). Time (new record), 14.3.
100 yd. free style, 4-man relay—Alpha Zeta Sigma (Marv Crews, Bob Knapp, Dick Boyd, Maurie Duncan), Balboa AC (Wendell Tyree, Chris DeLeon, Al Nelson, Joe Neil), Gator AC. Time, 53.3.

SAN JOSE UNBEATEN

Spartans Out to Corral Duggan in Prune City Tilt

The San Francisco State Golden Gators, suddenly aware of their own strength, will tip an unbeaten San Jose State quintet on the Spartan's home hardwoods tonight at 8:15.

Although State fans will be hoping to see their own great Kevin Duggan repeat his 41 point effort of last week against Arizona State, the most important men on the court will be the Gator long-shot specialists—Gly Mayfield and Vic Gipson—as the only factors that can draw the Spartan defense from around Kevin.

Still smarting from the 39 points Duggan scored against them last year, San Jose will stack their entire defensive setup in an attempt to corral Duggan and zone away the driving offense employed by State.

The contest has been rated as a near tossup by Bay Area sportswriters and sportscasters, who give a very thin edge to SJS.

Walt McPherson's Spartans, unbeaten in three starts, coupled an aggressive backboard game with speedy ball handling to rack up Fresno State, 72-58, last week. Lanky Lee Jensen, a junior forward, paced the Spartan scoring with 21 points.

The man around whom a well-balanced team is built is the center, George Clark, scorer of 16 points against the Gators last year and highly improved since then. Ball control is the strong point of the Spartans, and their buckets have been evenly spread among the team members.

The Gators to watch, besides Mayfield and Gipson, will be Al Desin, Alex Athanasoupoulos, and Duggan, should the game turn into the track meet basketball the Staters love to play.

JVs Clash With San Jose Tonight

Joe Moore's JV basketballers will know tonight just how strong their 1951 crew is going to be when they clash with the high-flying San Jose State JV's in the preliminary at 6:30 at San Jose.

During the vacation the JV's will play preliminary games before the varsity contests with Pomona and Utah State. Their opponents will be the Dolphin AC and Santa Rosa JC on Tuesday and Wednesday, respectively.

Interchanging a fast break and a pattern-type offensive, the JV's have taken four out of their first six games. Paced by Robert Bown and a hustling group of starters, the JV's are composed for the most part of men needing seasoning for varsity ball.

Often the JV's will be of varsity caliber, but will be held back because of ineligibility or lack of height in the tall man's game that basketball has become.

The starting men will be: George Wehner, center; Robert Brown and Henry Reynolds, forwards; Chas. Matzen and Ron Marenda, guards.

East Bay AC Drops Balboa 13-0 in Championship Go

Highlighting the semifinal intramural football championships, the East Bay AC dropped the Balboa AC 13-0 for the right to tangle with Alpha Zeta Sigma for the college crown.

After two previous games had ended in 7-7 deadlocks, the East Bay outfit put together hard blocking and the speed of Charlie Sarver to break the string of ties.

Balboa AC simply ran out of gas late in the game after dominating the first half.

Gators Travel To Pendleton

Dan Farmer's crew of hoopsters will take their longest tour of the year when they jaunt down to Camp Pendleton to take on the Marine Corps basketballers just following Christmas on the 27th, 28th and 29th of December.

During the three-night stand the Gators will tangle with the Camp Pendleton Marines the first night, and the Marine Corps Recruit depot on the next two nights.

Service teams, as a rule, are unpredictable, particularly if they represent a new batch of boots that might include anything from all-America players to Harlem Globetrotters.

Kevin Duggan, "Northern California's Player of the Week," this week, will appear on Ira Blue's Radio Sportshow Monday night at 6:45 on KGO.

Arizona State of Flagstaff, a team that the Staters beat easily, managed to ramble through the Leathernecks without too much trouble, but the Marines have improved a great deal since then and might be saving their energy for a battle royal against a travel-weary group of Gators.

Coach Dan Farmer emphasized the reasons for the long trip down to Oceanside and Camp Pendleton: "These games are being played partly as a contribution to the entertainment of the boys who have not been able to go home for Christmas," he said. "We feel that we have a definite responsibility to them, and if we can help in keeping the boys entertained, we will have accomplished our purpose."

STANFORD TOPS IN AREA

Walsh, Athanasoupoulos Key Men Against Indians

Grimly pointing for the biggest upset of the embryonic 1950-51 basketball season, State's hoopsters will collide with one of the finest basketball teams in Stanford university's recent history tomorrow night at Palo Alto.

Utilizing the most devastating fast-breaking offense on the Pacific coast, the Indians have all the potentialities necessary for PCC dominance and national recognition. Experience, height, and depth abound in every position, and Stanford has at least one all-America prospect in the speedy, fast-breaking person of Eddie Tucker, a forward.

The comparatively thin knot of Gator regulars will try to foul up the conventional Stanford fast break with the highly unorthodox style of offensive and defensive switching of positions devised by Coach Dan Farmer in order to place his few tall men under the backboards, and his short, fast men between the keys.

The responsibility for watching Tucker will fall upon the shoulders of the diminutive Gator Johnny Walsh, one of the finest passers and playmakers on the West coast, whose lack of height disguises his ability.

Another veteran, Alex Athanasoupoulos, will be an important factor in stopping the Stanford fast-break. Alex's defensive skill and stamina will be of much importance in his gruelling post as an offensive guard and defensive forward.

Kevin Duggan and Al Desin will be called upon to take the ball away from the experienced paws of Jim Ramstead and the other Indian backboard giants. Ball control often means game control, and if the Gators can match enough rebounds, and stop enough tip-ins, State's quick, deadly offensive might topple the Stanford bandwagon.

Rec. Christmas Party

Edgewood orghanage will be the site for the Recreation society's annual Christmas party which will be held this year on Sunday afternoon, December 23. The party will feature games and a puppet show.

Frosh All-Stars Sneak Past AZS For Intramural Hoop Loop Championship

Led by the 19 points of sharp-shooting John Hosler, the Frosh All-Stars edged Alpha Zeta Sigma 42-39 for the all-college intramural championship Tuesday.

The height of the All-Stars gave them the final burst of points that beat the fraternity league champions. Vic Gipson and Al Wollenburg, varsity ball-players, also gave the frosh experience and power, despite their youth.

The lead varied throughout the contest, but never by more than a momentary six points, which might quickly reverse. The score at the half-time found the All-Stars leading 16-14. Immediately afterward Alpha Zeta Sigma hit for a brief lead which was quickly cut down by the Frosh.

The Frosh extended their lead to six points with three minutes to go, but AZS countered with a field goal and a free throw. But they missed the boat and two set shots to ice the game for the Frosh.

The Frosh All-Stars just managed to defeat the ROTC Jets 37-39 last Monday in the semi-finals game that sent them on to a victory over Alpha Zeta Sigma for the college championship.

The game was extremely close all the way, and both teams fought right down to the final gun. John Crozier led the Jets with 13 points, and Henry Reynolds was game high point man for the Frosh All-Stars with 14 markers.
